Actor on the hit TV show "Glee" talks about his visit to India for an upcoming episode It has been two years since Glee actor Chris Colfer has been seen in an episode of the show. This Sunday, we'll see him in an episode that is set in India.

The interview he did with Mid-day gives us a glimpse into his experiences as an Indian and how different it is to go back home. He also talks about the upcoming premiere of the second season of Glee, and how he and his cast mates are getting ready for it. Here are excerpts from the interview.

What did you think of the cultural differences when you first went to India and how did that impact your experiences? The biggest thing that I noticed was the different activities, because we're used to seeing things on TV. In India, there was no TV, so I'm used to now seeing people talk at each other, to go and eat, to sit at the rickshaw stand. I didn't notice the difference before the show because I'm used to India, so I didn't realise what was different, and what was the same. At first, I was like, 'What the heck is this?' But when you actually live there for a little while, you realise that it's not that different. I've been there for about a month now, and I'm getting a little bit familiar with the culture. So I've noticed that it's not that different. However, the biggest thing that I noticed was my first few days because, when I first arrived, I did not speak Hindi and I said the wrong things to people in the airport because I didn't speak Hindi. My first few days in India, that was the biggest thing I noticed.

Would you like to come to India one day? I have to say it makes me sad that I don't have the opportunity to come to India because I'd like to visit India one day. I'd love to
